3. People receive encouragement in different ways. Go around your team circle and have each person share the method by which they are most encouraged. (Examples could be: words of encouragement, acts of service, gifts, physical touch, quality time.*) Write down each person's preference below.

Name(s)	Preferred method of encouragement

4. Close by discussing ways you could increase the encouragement quotient on your team and add value to each person.

* Examples taken from The Five Love Languages by Gary Chapman.
